

Combination Raffle - Ice Fishing Contest

Gambling funds may not be used to pay for the fishing contest prizes.

A licensed organization may conduct a raffle in conjunction with an ice fishing contest. Contact the DNR regarding ice fishing permit requirements.

- A combined ticket may be sold for a single price for the ice fishing contest and raffle. The combined ticket must state the price that applies to the ice fishing contest and the price that applies to the raffle.

A person purchasing a ticket must pay the combined ticket price and must be at least 18.

- The receipts from the raffle portion are considered gambling funds, while the portion for the ice fishing contest is not. Only the raffle proceeds are deposited into the gambling account.
- If a raffle will be held at a location other than a permitted premises, be sure to get an off-site permit from the Gambling Control Board. See chapter 3 for information or contact a licensing specialist.
